

Digital Marketing and Data Masterclass

In the age of the customer, digital and data has never been so important as a vital part of the marketing mix. But for many managers and leaders, the path to effectively leveraging digital and data is still unclear. There are many digital marketing courses out there but most focus on channel strategies and tactical execution.

Our program is designed to help working marketing and digital professionals understand the key aspects of digital marketing as part of an integrated marketing approach and how to effectively enable success, through marketing tech, data and ways of working. This course will provide participants with the confidence as individuals and as a team to ask the right questions and guide the digital and data journey.

Highly interactive and practical, the program also provides a forum for you to sound board thoughts and ideas and wrestle with what digital and data means for your marketing strategy.

4 half day online sessions from 1:00pm - 4:45pm AEST.

past participants say...

"My team and I were lucky enough to participate in the latest Arctic Fox Digital Masterclass, and what a masterclass it was! The program covered an array of topics from strategy development to measurement and everything in between.

I'd definitely recommend the masterclass for anyone who works in the digital marketing space, or works with people who do. 10/10"

- Genie K, Senior Marketing Manager, Coles

"The Digital Masterclass was the perfect curation of content, providing a holistic view of digital marketing and its role within the wider marketing strategy.

The program offered practical information and insights as to the 'why' relative to strategic outcomes and how to get there. Well done to Arctic Fox on an excellent Masterclass, highly recommend it for every modern-day marketing professional"
